

CONTRIBUTORS

Nicolás Carrillo-Santarelli is Professor of Law at La Sabana University (Colombia).

Silviana Cocan holds a joint doctoral degree from the Université Laval Faculty of Law and the Université de Bordeaux Faculty of Law and Political Science. Her doctoral thesis focused on judicial dialogue between international bodies, protecting human rights and adopting a comparative approach of the interpretation of the prohibition of torture and other inhuman, degrading or cruel treatment or punishment. Her thesis was published in French in December 2020 by LGDJ-Lextenso Éditions after being awarded the Louis Joinet Thesis Prize from the Francophone Institute for Justice and Democracy and the 2019-2020 Thesis Prize of the Québec Society of Comparative Law. Previously, she was a Mitacs Elevate Postdoctoral Research Fellow (2020-2022) at the Université de Montréal Faculty of Law. She is currently a BCL/JD candidate at McGill University Faculty of Law and a lecturer at the Université de Montréal Faculty of Law.

Attila Nagy is a Law Lecturer and Researcher focusing on law subjects and has worked for many years as a Lecturer at the International Business College Mitrovica in Kosovo. He has taught Business Law, Public Administration and EU related subjects. Nagy is engaged in field research on the most important topics related to the future of the EU. His research focuses on Institutions such as OSCE, The EU Mission in Kosovo, The UN Mission in Kosovo, the newly established Kosovo Court, and The Kosovo Specialist Chambers. He has done extensive research and has many publications in the area of post-conflict development and foreign investment. The topic of his PhD thesis is 'Informal rules in post-conflict development' and it is written under the supervision of Prof. Martin Leiner from the Jena Centre for Reconciliation Studies and Prof. Matthias Knauff from the Faculty of Law in Jena.

Paula Andrea Roa Sánchez is a Law Professor of the Universidad de La Sabana. Chía, Colombia.

Lin Shang is a Legal Analyst, International Finance Corporation, World Bank Group, Magister Juris (University of Oxford); Her research interests include public international law and international economic law.

Wenjun Yan is Lecturer of Law, Department of International Law, China Foreign Affairs University. Assistant Secretary-General of Chinese Society of International Law; Ph.D., School of International Law, China University of Political Science and Law (2014); Visiting Scholar, US-Asia Law Institute, Law School, New York University (Aug. 2012 to Aug. 2013). His research interests include public international law, international human rights and international humanitarian law.